

Sandsational Race: Dictionary!

Sandsational! Passport

You will be given a SANDSATIONAL! PASSPORT that will be required throughout the race. It will be given before the race. The SANDSATIONAL! PASSPORT will include the maps of East Coast Park, Changi Beach Park and the location of the side missions. In addition, it will include the text box that is needed for the side missions, the contact numbers of phone operators and as well as the route marker to the first location. When you reached a side mission checkpoint and successfully completed the task given, the station master will stamp on your text box (see the importance of text box now?)

Station Masters

These are the people in charge of the Game station and Side mission checkpoints. They will be the one providing you clues to your next station or checkpoint. However, they will not accept any bribes.

Phone Operators

These are the people who are the shining light in your darkness of your race i.e. when your team is lost during the race. Ring them up if you are in urgent need of assistance (additional clues) but at a high cost.

Note: Time is of essence, so call them wisely!!

Obstacles in the Race

Route Markers

The route markers include clues that will lead you to your next location. These clues are riddles and puzzles that your team need to solve to get to the location.

Road Blocks

These are basically the instructions of the game given to you by the station master at the specific game station. You have to follow the instructions in order to complete the game, if not you are subjected to punishments from the station master (don't worry they are nice people).

Detours

These are the tasks and instructions of the side missions that will enable you to score more points during the race that will lead you to win SANDSATIONAL RACE.

Racing Kit

Individual Gear

- Appropriate attire: Official 'Sandsational Race 2009' shirt must be worn throughout the race. Would strongly recommend wearing light-wear such as shorts.
- Additional change of clothes: Please bring a set of clothes to change after the event.
- Identification Card: Please remember to bring your EZ-link or Identification Card!
- Good pair of walking/running footwear: You are encouraged to bring sandals for the race (*hint hint)
- Watch: Best if it is water resistant and in good condition
- Food and Snacks: You are allowed to bring food rations to eat during the race
- Rain-gear: Do not worry as it will be provided!
- Personal Medication
- Cash: No limit to the amount you bring BUT you are responsible for your own money

Note:

- No cigarettes and lighters allowed
- Alcohol is prohibited (no drink-riding!)

Team Gear

- Sandsational! Passport: This is the most important team gear!
- Mobile phone: At least one mobile phone to contact phone operator
- Camera: it can be digital cameras or phones with camera function

Important Note:

- Each member of the team must each have one set of all the items in the "individual gear" list.
- Each team must have a set of all the items in the "team gear" list.
- There will be gear checks before and during the race to ensure that everyone only brings the item stated in the list, so do play fair and don't try to be funny.
